“I Pledge to Protect God’s Children”

May 20, 2023 during our Not Ashamed Rally at Life Song Church, Pastors from around the Thumb anointed and prayed for people who answered the altar call; “Will you stand up and protect God’s children?” The response was “Here am I Lord, send me.” Approximately 100 people came forward to be anointed. One week later on Sunday May 28th, it was Pentecost and Memorial Day weekend. We gave the same altar call, anointing people for protection, to stand up and protect God’s children, to bring down Babylon and Repair the Breach. People came forward both services. God is building His army in the Thumb! READ “The Final Battle” pg 71

The call to rally people together to Protect God’s Children is going out again; this time asking people to make a pledge. A pledge is a vow, a commitment, an oath. In the last sentence of the Declaration of Independence, our Founding Fathers, after declaring their absolute reliance on the protection of the divine Providence, mutually pledged to each other their Lives, Fortunes and sacred Honor in order to stand up against the tyranny from King George of Great Britain.

Today, we face this same tyranny as there is an attack on our children to destroy their innocence, identity, morality, peace of mind, gender identity, cohesiveness with others, emotional well-being, relationship with their parents and the family unit. They are being groomed sexually, opening the door for pedophiles. Child abuse of this magnitude constitutes Crimes Against Humanity. We have the God-given unalienable right as expressed in our U.S. Constitution and in our Michigan State Constitution to stand up and protect our children, our posterity from child abuse.

People who are justifying and promoting the abuse through “Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (DEI)” programs, and counsel our children through “Social Emotional Health” will soon realize the devastation to our children is undeniable. Schools who justify sexually indoctrinating our children with these programs because of funding from the federal government, are supporting child abuse. The hearts and minds of our children are not for sale!

Regardless of what laws are passed, what the education system espouses, and corporations promote, child abuse is against God’s laws of human behavior. Parents have a God-given right to decide the best interest for their children, not our government or any other organization. Our children do not belong to the State.

Sexual Indoctrination: grooming our children for pedophiles through social media, movies, supposed sexual education, books, Community Mental Health, and other organizations is child abuse. Showing young children (many years before puberty) pictures of people engaged in sexual activities plants a seed of sex in their little minds that can’t be undone. Sexual indoctrination is child abuse as pedophiles fight to remove the “age of consent.”

Gender Confusion: to support the narrative that a boy can be a girl or a girl can be a boy is a lie. You cannot change the chromosomes of a person. They either have xx for a female or xy for a male. This creates in the child a world of “make-believe” void of reality causing the child confusion and can lead to depression. This is child abuse.

Species Confusion: to support the narrative that encourages children to identify as a “furry” which is an animal such as a cat, allowing them (in school) to purr, meow and defecate in a litter box, not only violates health codes, it violates the dignity of a human being and is child abuse. Our children are not animals.

Lifetime of Drugs: Once a child starts on hormonal blockers and other life-altering, gender affirming drugs, they will continue for life. Medical professionals do not know the long-term effects of these substances. This is child abuse.

Taught to Lie to Parents: Children who have parents who want them to wait until they are older to undergo these procedures are taught to lie to their parents. Teaching children to lie to their parents, breaking down the trust between them, and destroying the family unit, will cause multiple problems and is child abuse.

Separation from Parents: Laws are being introduced to remove children from parents who refuse to go along with the lie of gender affirmation. Taking children from parents who stand for scientific truth, refusing to lie, is child abuse.

Multiple Personalities: Gender pronouns like “they” and “them” are suggestive of multiple personalities which can lead to mental instability. This is child abuse. Multiple Personality Disorders are often formed in children who are sexually abused as a way to cope.

Body Mutilations: When a young boy is chemically or physically castrated, it is painful and permanent. When a young girl has a double mastectomy, she is scarred physically and emotionally for life. These body mutilations are child abuse.

Race Shaming: Teaching our children that because of the color of their skin they are bad, an oppressor, need to pay restitution, and are less than others, no matter how you manipulate the wording, is Critical Race Theory and is child abuse. You can’t use racism to solve racism.

Made in God’s Image: All children are wonderfully and beautifully made by their creator God. He created them male and female in His image. He has joyous plans for each child. Their skin color is a magnificent kaleidoscope radiating their uniqueness. Their happiness and joy lie in who God made them to be. Each one is gifted with special talents that will unfold as they draw closer to God. We will affirm the truth; God made them male and female. For this we know: The Truth Will Prevail!

Therefore, I Pledge:

I will Protect God’s Children. I will affirm God’s truth; He made them male and female in His image, each one is unique and beautiful. I will not affirm the lie of child abuse by using pronouns that do not bare truth to the science of gender. I will affirm God’s love for all children. I will love every child regardless of their gender identification or sexual status.

Jer 29:11-13 *For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, says the Lord, thoughts of peace and not of evil, to give you a future and a hope. 12 Then you will call upon Me and go and pray to Me, and I will listen to you. 13 And you will seek Me and find Me, when you search for Me with all your heart.

Gen 5:1-2 This is the book of the genealogy of Adam. In the day that God created man, He made him in the likeness of God. 2 He created them male and female, and blessed them and called them Mankind in the day they were created.

Ps 139:13-16 *For You formed my inward parts; You covered me in my mother’s womb. 14 I will praise You, for I am fearfully and wonderfully made; Marvelous are Your works, And that my soul knows very well. 15 My frame was not hidden from You, When I was made in secret, And skillfully wrought in the lowest parts of the earth. 16 Your eyes saw my substance, being yet unformed. And in Your book they all were written, The days fashioned for me, When as yet there were none of them.

The Case Already Decided in the Supreme Court: Troxel v. Granville 530 U.S. 6,7 (2000)

“The Fourteenth Amendment provides that no State shall “deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law.” We have long recognized that the Amendment’s Due Process Clause, like its Fifth Amendment counterpart, “guarantees more than fair process.” Washington v. Glucksberg, 521 U.S. 702, 719 (1997). The Clause also includes a substantive component that “provides heightened protection against government interference with certain fundamental rights and liberty interests.” Id., at 720; see also Reno v. Flores, 507 U.S. 292, 301—302 (1993). The liberty interest at issue in this case—the interest of parents in the care, custody, and control of their children—is perhaps the oldest of the fundamental liberty interests recognized by this Court. More than 75 years ago, in Meyer v. Nebraska, 262 U.S. 390, 399, 401 (1923), we held that the “liberty” protected by the Due Process Clause includes the right of parents to “establish a home and bring up children” and “to control the education of their own.” Two years later, in Pierce v. Society of Sisters, 268 U.S. 510, 534—535 (1925), we again held that the “liberty of parents and guardians” includes the right “to direct the upbringing and education of children under their control.” We explained in Pierce that “[t]he child is not the mere creature of the State; those who nurture him and direct his destiny have the right, coupled with the high duty, to recognize and prepare him for additional obligations.” Id., at 535. We returned to the subject in Prince v. Massachusetts, 321 U.S. 158 (1944), and again confirmed that there is a constitutional dimension to the right of parents to direct the upbringing of their children. “It is cardinal with us that the custody, care and nurture of the child reside first in the parents, whose primary function and freedom include preparation for obligations the state can neither supply nor hinder.” Id., at 166.”
